When detector finds certain index reaching threshold criteria, it triggers the AlertGenerator. The generator then checks with DataStorage to query the patient's historical data and trends. After getting the trends and confirming the alert, it initiates the Alert. The alert then can be updated to acknowledged status by the nurses' clicking. After checking the patient and handled accordingly, the alert can be manually change to resolved status.